USPTO REJECTS ALL DIGITAL ALLY ORIGINAL PATENT CLAIMS AS INVALID IN FINAL ACTION

Nov 13, 2015 announcements

TASER International has received notice of final office action that the United States Patent and Trademark Office has rejected as invalid all of the originally granted claims of U.S. Patent 8,781,292 which has been assigned to Digital Ally, Inc. This USPTO office action is in response to an ex parte reexamination request filed by TASER, and a response to this action filed by Digital Ally with the USPTO.

"We are very pleased that the USPTO has issued a final office action rejecting as invalid all of the original claims of this patent. The amended or new claims that were allowed contain substantial limitations that move TASER products even further from these claims," TASER's General Counsel Doug Klint said.

We have built upon the old technology described in the Digital Ally patent with patent-pending technology called Axon Signal, which can automatically activate Axon cameras within range to help ensure that no vital footage goes unrecorded.

We here at TASER are always designing and testing new technologies that protect truth and

The Internet, though it has its obvious marvels, also has a lot of MONSTERS!
RDAR is saying
ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!

Social media has not only opened the door to a growing cyber bullying epidemic, but it has also opened the door for predators to exploit and manipulate unsuspecting children all across the world from behind their keyboards.

With more than 70% of American teens having regular, un-monitored, access to technology, the market is EXTENSIVE!

(OTC:RDAR)

Those who learn about RDAR at these levels could soon be cashing in on some HUGE PROFITS!
