The case listed above was submitted for District Attorney Review. The following assessment of the case was made:

After reviewing this case back on August 25, 2016 I declined as insufficient and made some recommendations for possible follow up. Today I received the follow up report with additional witness interviews and attempts to contact additional witnesses.

None of the witnesses nor documentary evidence obtained by Oregon State Police prove that an actual "transfer" occurred. The suspect's statement to the media that he gave it to someone for safe keeping is insufficient to prove that it did happen. Additionally the investigation fails to prove that even if the transfer did occur, that it was not to any of the permissible transferees.

Without the name of the transferee in this case, I don't think we could ever have a prosecutable case. Therefore I am declining prosecution for insufficient evidence.

Sincerely,

JOHN S. FOOTE
District Attorney
